When we remember 1918, we reflect on a time of great hope and great sadness for our country. We recall our part in the horrors of war and the darkness that drives humanity to violence. But we also remember the promise of peace. On 4 August 1918, many in this country came together with King George V to pray for peace: 100 days later the Great War ended.

In the 100 days before this Remembrance Sunday there will be a prayer tree in St Michael's Chapel for all to use, to pray for those caught up in conflict, for peace against all odds and for hope when there is little light to be seen.

"From 4 August let us mark 100 days with prayers for peace, hope and reconciliation"

Justin Welby
Archbishop of Canterbury

Church will be open during daylight hours for anyone to use the prayer tree. Please feel free to take the prayer cards home and to write your own prayers on the poppies and hang them on the tree.
